4.1 Continuation of discussion regarding CHOICES funding

Concept suggested by staff of reworking CAPP and CHOICES to be geared towards social determinants of health or a broader more holistic approach rather than poverty reduction to merge the two together into one RFA.

Questions:

- Are there models in other counties to provide inspiration?

- DOH is having trouble with grants as well due to the Central Office in Tallahassee, it also depends on the type of funding being requested and that is popular at the time. The newest type of funding that will be coming is Women's Health following a White House initiative.
- Would a matching plan be feasible? For example, ACORN raises $25,000 and the county matches those funds?
- The County would need to track those dollars to services due to using tax dollars. CTAC's largest complaint they have is the amount of attention that is paid to the funds which places a burden on the vendors. Reimbursement style also puts the initial burden on the agency, CTAC has opted to offer 20% upfront to help ease the financial burden to small agencies.
- Could we separate out the dedicated CHOICES funds and let it grow interest to then fully fund the programs later with dedicated Trust money?
- That would not be possible, the trust is already to the point where a full depletion is inevitable.
- When does a decision need to be made?
- Before budget planning, sometime in January

5. New Business

5.1 Program Updates

- Krista Ott – trying to recover from shelter operations from the storms, about 50 new referrals a month into programs. Hiring again positions open for Firefighters
- Tina Lloyd – Anniversary Dinner raised $62,000 and brought in $56,000 after expenses.
- Amanda Reed – GI clinic is coming to Grace Healthcare with a Hep C, colon cancer etc. screening
- Jessica Forbes – Alachua Elementary School just let go 4 teachers from low VAM scores which sparked an emergency community board meeting

- Bill Garst – Walgreens is closing 1200 stores nationwide which will impact pharmacy availability

7. Adjournment
