The [Re]Build Repair Vehicle Fleet Project is a capacity building project to increase the efficiency, outputs, and outcomes of Rebuilding Together North Central Florida's (RTNCF) critical and emergency home repair programs.

RTNCF is a home repair non-profit organization that brings volunteers and communities together in order to address housing needs of low-income homeowners in Alachua County. Our goal is to preserve affordable homeownership and to improve the health and safety of homes for residents in need through the provision of critical and emergency repairs and accessibility modifications to those who qualify.

RTNCF's repair programs are designed to eliminate home hazards with a focus on the 25 Health and Safety priorities developed in partnership with the National Center for Healthy Housing for highest impact. RTNCF's repair programs are available to low, very-low, and extremely-low income homeowners in Alachua County. Historically, RTNCF has provided major critical and emergency repairs to 20-30 unique homes each year, eliminating hundreds of hazards, and keeping neighbors safe and healthy in the homes, neighborhoods, and communities where they've lived for years.

RTNCF's homeowner application and qualification process verifies the income of program participants, as well as residency, property ownership, and other factors related to program specifications. By repairing and modifying homes for accessibility, RTNCF's program prevents displacement, increases the health and safety of participants and their families, mitigates immediate risks, and our work is shown through impact studies to improve participants' safety, physical health, mental health, independence, upward mobility, and community connection. More information on our direct impact is available at: <https://www.rebuildingtogetherncf.org/overall-impact>

As a capacity building project, this project does not propose to increase specific metrics of repair programs, or to provide funding for direct repairs, but rather to improve efficiencies and build infrastructure that will have long term positive effects on the outcomes of RTNCF's programs in perpetuity. That said, we estimate based on the outline below that such infrastructure improvements will lead to an increase in outcomes in the range of a 10-20% increase from current program outcomes.

13. Please describe how your project will enhance effectiveness and/or efficiency of your agency's service delivery:*

Maximum response length: 2500 characters

☒ Pass ☐ Fail

Rebuilding Together North Central Florida (RTNCF) has provided critical, emergency, aging-in-place, and energy efficiency upgrade and tune-up services in Alachua County for more than 18 years. These services have eliminated thousands of home hazards, and maintained affordability in homeownership, incentivizing hundreds of our neighbors to remain in the homes, neighborhoods and communities where they've lived for years.

The [Re]Build Repair Vehicle Fleet Project will increase the efficiencies of RTNCF's programs by expanding the capacity of program staff in provision of on-site services, such as oversight of volunteer work days and subcontracted repairs. The proposed plan will also increase efficiencies in pick up and delivery of tools and materials to repair sites. This project is designed to optimize RTNCF's infrastructure to reduce current program bottlenecks and to strengthen programs to provide more home repairs to qualified applicants locally.

Since a recent accident that rendered a company vehicle inoperable, RTNCF has managed all repair programs with a single designated program vehicle, a mini van. Program staff spend an estimated 10+ hours per week preparing for site work by packing tools and supplies for specific repairs. Due to the size of the van there is not sufficient room to pack for multiple days, or several types of repairs at once. Having only one program vehicle limits the organization's capacity to host multiple repair sites on the same day.

Despite this challenge, RTNCF has provided 20-30 critical and emergency repairs per year. Through this project, we anticipate a significant savings in staff time, which will increase staff capacity to take on additional repair program related tasks and to increase program outputs in two metrics--hazards corrected, and homes served.

We estimate that through the efficiencies increased by this funding we can increase the number of hazards removed and the number of homes served by 10-20% in consecutive years. This translates to more than 1,000 hours per year in saved staff time, as well as a projected increase of program outputs including 18-35 additional hazards eliminated, and an additional 6-12 estimated neighbors served, living in 3-6 unique homes annually. We project that as we increase organizational capacity in other ways, that these first year estimates will continue to grow in following years.
