Background:

In December 2023, the Environmental Protection Department launched the eleventh annual “Saving My Alachua” Environmental Art Contest, open to all Alachua County students from Kindergarten through 12th grade. Students were asked to submit artwork reflecting their interest in the local environment and addressing one of the following topics: water conservation, stormwater pollution, natural habitat protection, wilderness and wildlife protection, and proper disposal of toxic waste. The Department received 641 entries from 23 Alachua County schools and centers. 31 winners were selected for this year’s awards, including 1st, 2nd, and 3rd place in each grade category, as well as “Calendar Selection” awards for those entries that will be featured in a 2025 “Saving My Alachua” calendar. Winners will be recognized at the April 23, 2024 Board of County Commissioners evening meeting. The contest promotes civic engagement and interest in the local environment. Recognizing winners at the Commission meeting fosters participation in local environmental issues by Alachua County’s emerging citizens.
