Following the tragic loss of my daughter in 2009 due to a pedestrian-related incident, I have dedicated myself to advocating for safer, more accessible streets for all. Over the past several years, I have actively engaged in community meetings, collaborated with local safety organizations, and participated in traffic safety workshops to support improvements in pedestrian and bicycle infrastructure. My advocacy work includes public speaking, policy engagement, and memorial initiatives that honor victims and promote awareness. This personal experience has fueled a deep commitment to creating safer environments for pedestrians and cyclists, and I am eager to bring that passion and perspective to the Bicycle Pedestrian Advisory Board.

Bicycle/Pedestrian, Health, Victim Services

What Contributions do you feel you could make if you were selected to this board?:

If selected to serve on the Bicycle Pedestrian Advisory Board, I would bring a deeply personal perspective shaped by lived experience, along with a steadfast commitment to improving safety for all road users. I can contribute by advocating for policies and infrastructure that prioritize pedestrians and cyclists, especially in areas where vulnerable populations—such as children, seniors, and individuals with disabilities—are most at risk. My experience in community engagement and public advocacy has equipped me to be a thoughtful, collaborative voice on the board, and I'm committed to ensuring that decisions reflect both data and the human stories behind the statistics. I also hope to foster stronger connections between the board and the public, helping to raise awareness, build trust, and inspire greater community involvement in pedestrian and bike safety efforts.
